FOREWORD

Four years ago when we entered this school we were but small dwarfs in the dense, dark forest of knowledge and learning. In this forest we have met both happiness and disappointment; learned the significance of honesty, courtesy, and sincerity; and made friendships that will last our lifetimes.

Now we are leaving our Alma Mater. If, when we pause a moment to dream of the happy days of our youth, this book will help bring back those joyous memories, then this annual will have served its supreme purpose.

CLASS POEM

Before us now there lies a way untried:
And though of all its pitfalls unaware,
Forth on the endless road of Life we fare,
Protected by our Maker and our Guide.
The way grows steep, and clothed in tattered pride,
O'er rocks that block our way, through thorns that tear,
We stumble weak and lame in blind despair
'Mid snares and pitfalls scattered far and wide.
Yet joy there is to sweeten every gall,
And balm for every wound, peace for dread;
A laugh will drown the echo of each moan.
And though we fall, and rise, again to fall,
We onward yet advance with surer tread
And come to kneel at last before His throne.

JEANNE GAVETT

GALEN JONES, PH. D.

DEDICATION

We, the members of the 1936 Milestone Board, dedicate this annual to our esteemed principal, Dr. Galen Jones, as a token of our admiration and loyalty.

This year completes Dr. Jones' second year as principal of Plainfield High School, and already we can see large strides in the field of modern education as applied to our school. Those of us who have been fortunate enough to have had many contacts with Dr. Jones have realized that we have as our leader a man genial, sympathetic, understanding, and always willing to listen to our troubles with an impartial ear.

Surely we have here a man worthy of the commendation of all good students.

IN MEMORY
IRENE MARY DUCHESNE

When fell, today, the word that she had gone,
Not this my thought: Here a bright journey ends,
Here rests a soul unresting; here, at last,
Here ends that earnest strength, that generous life—
For all her life was giving. Rather this
I said (after the first swift, sorrowing pang):
Radiant with love, and love's unending power,
Hence, on a new quest, starts an eager spirit—
So fares she forth with smiling, Godward face;
Nor should we grieve, but give eternal thanks—
Save that we mortal are, and needs must mourn.

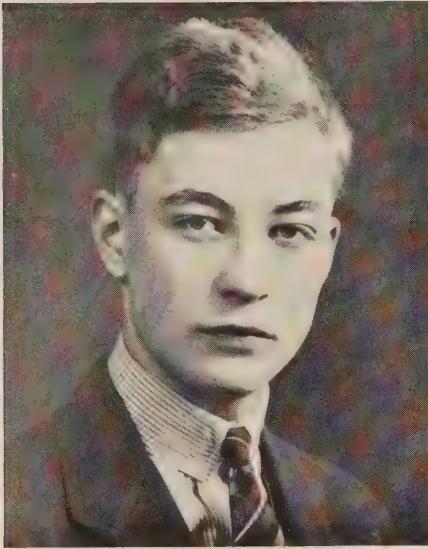

(Written by Richard Watson Gilder in memory of Alice Freeman Palmer whom Miss Duchesne resembled both in person and in spirit. Reprinted

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN CLASS

Many years ago Daniel Boone cautiously pushed his way across the Allegheny Mountains in search of something better. And so did we cautiously approach Plainfield High School on that bright September morn in the fall of 1932. We too were in search of something better and so did we meet our hardships. Like Daniel Boone hunting for a place to camp at night, we, often in vain, hunted for various rooms and elevators. Awed by the presence of so many elders, just as Boone was awed by the beautiful spacious blue grass of Kentucky, little did we dream that in four years we would leave by those same doors, the largest and one of the finest classes ever to be presented with diplomas by the Board of Education.

No expansion can be successful without the feminine touch to make things complete. Among those of our class who were outstanding were Marie Pepper and Eleanor Brown. At one of the Hi-Tri Dances these two dragged the presidents of the junior and senior classes respectively.

And, speaking of presidents, after we set up our abodes in the wilderness and finally settled ourselves, we proceeded to elect Jim Walsh as our president, Joseph Stites as his assistant, Rhoda Lisle as secretary, and Ted Loizeaux as treasurer.

We feel that here we should mention a death with great reverence—that of the "Oracle." But on March 27, 1933, the "Entree" was duly established. Also in this year we had the pleasure of hearing Queena Mario, a P.H.S. alumna, and Amelia Earhart, the noted aviatrix, from our stage.

After we became acquainted with the country and were sure of our foothold, we decided to move forward, and as exams approached we perceived what seemed to us the "acme of perfection"—the SOPHOMORE CLASS.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Slowly but surely we progressed. The forests were becoming more dense and harder to penetrate as were our studies. Many were the battles that we had to fight, the most notable of which took place on the gridiron. Most of us were too young and inexperienced to help on the battlefield, but thankful were the warriors for our work on the sidelines. However, Don Simmons and Mike Blazo starred for our class.

We thought enough of our last year's leader to elect him again as president of our class. As vice-president we chose Ginny Barrett; as secretary, Lucille Stites; and as treasurer, Emmrich Lamb.

Unfortunately, the strain of the expedition often overcomes various members, especially those who have given their greatest services. And so at the end of the year, Mr. Best, our principal, turned trail for civilization and resigned from his office as our commander.

Often Indians would sneak up and attack our village and massacre some of our members. In the same manner final exams rolled around and took many of our lot. Depleted but courageous our stout-hearted band resolved to push forward to a greater and nobler goal. And at last we were upper-classmen.

JUNIOR CLASS

On we went. We had reached the banks of the beautiful Ohio and were now to enjoy some of the most beautiful country we ever shall know—that of our junior and senior years. One of our lot barged forth and was elected captain of the Big Red warriors—Don Simmons. Oscar Smith and John Hagemann were also notable in their work on the football team. When we appeared at Parker Field, we found to our amazement a large grandstand with a seating capacity of 2000. The mention of this also brings to mind the Phillipsburg game when the opponent rooters came in in throngs somewhat inebriated, and occupied our grandstand. We put up a noble fight to the championship team but lost 12-6.

It was the night of this unforgettable game that we presented our junior plays. When one of the plays, "The Wonder Hat," was presented in the Plainfield Senior Drama Tournament, it took second place. This was rather commendable, for the rest of the contestants were 25 years old or over.

Those in the cast of the two plays were: "The Wonder Hat"—Furman Phelps, Dan Hogan, Virginia Dinwiddie, Jean Price, and Robert Hedges. "Grandma Oldstyle"—Uarda Squires, Jean Melick, Marie Pepper, Mildred Buse, William Dixon and Theodore Anklowitz.

Our mermen went to work and won seven out of ten meets under their new coach, Vic Liske. Under the new coach Brann the basketball team won ten out of fifteen games, which is a fair percentage.

Our officers were headed by Richard Van Zandt. His assistants were William Boise, Jeanne Gavett, and Roland Van Zandt. Let nothing be said of the day before Christmas vacation when we were submitted to the tortures of our superior class.

And in March of this year came the super-colossal, gigantic, stupendous, glamorous, scintillating, and enjoyable musical comedy, "Flying Millions." The entire affair was original—music, script, stage settings, and costumes. It was a great success from all angles and should be a cairn in our progress in exploring the forests and plains of our high school careers.

The shoes of the commander had been filled at the beginning of the year by Dr. Jones, a true pioneer who climaxed his first year much to our pleasure by giving the co-operative type of exams. Even at this many of our brave soldiers fell by the wayside or became victims of junioritis. When we took census, we found that about half of our original group remained with us. Yet onward we struggled, the largest expedition ever to reach this edge of civilization.

SENIOR CLASS

Ah! The last long mile. On the horizon appeared a mirage. Could it be true? Could we reach the fountain of youth? Were we actually to begin life at the end of this last long year?

A very choice committee was delegated to wait on our own Bill Dixon to request his candidacy for president of our class. Mr. Dixon was quoted as saying, "Mr. Coolidge and I agree on one thing. That is, I do not choose to run." After much persuasion and soft-soaping Mr. Dixon struck the "not" out and replied, "I choose to run," which in itself is remarkable, for it is an event of national importance when Dixon chooses even to walk. But he did run, and in spite of the "24 votes for Underwood" Bill landed on top with lots to spare. As his capable assistants we elected Thomas Ricketts as vice-president, Lucille Stites as secretary, and Roland Van Zandt as treasurer.

All good expeditions must have some sort of amusement, so naturally we had ours. It was in the form of the Junior Roast. With Marion Okell as chairman we made a big success of humiliating the juniors.

President Roosevelt has had his troubles with his alphabets and what have you, but President Dixon cinched all his troubles by appointing Jack Arnold head of the Senior Play Committee. Arnold came back with the brilliant answer, "I'll Leave It to You." It seems Noel Coward was the man behind the answer. Thus on the fourteenth of March we presented the three-act play, the cast including Marie Pepper, Ted Loizeaux, Uarda Squires, Jack Arnold, Jane Dunham, Ruth Parry, and Dolores Cutillo. Boy, it was swell, super-colossal, etc. Stop! Maybe we'd better say it was a swell function. But then if we have a function we must have the subject, and the subject is the play, and we are right back where we started.

Nowadays when oldtimers gather together they talk about the blizzard of "88," but years from now the talk will be the snow of "36" when even school was closed because it was impossible to get to our beloved center of education.

Now as we near our goal, we, like Boone, have gone down in history (especially if we had Miss Bond). We have ventured forth on a great task. We were timid at first as freshmen and gradually we became more audacious, until now the seniors have had a shot at ruling the school.

When the pioneer is exploring, seldom does he know what will happen to the land after he has gone. Neither do we know what will happen to our class, but we do know that we have cleared a clean trail and we should be successful in developing what we have discovered in our explorations.

CLASS PROPHECY

Station P.H.S. Announcing

The makers of Elastex Baby Garments, free from buttons, snaps, pins, and ties, present Waltheresa Winchell, the keyhole reporter, giving you the low-down on the news high spots of June 13, 1960. Miss Winchell.

Flash! Mademoiselle Uarda, brilliant star of that powerful drama now on Broadway, "The Romance of Lizzie Gentz," or "Who Threw the Cat in the Soup," was seen dining at the Ritz with Ted Loizeaux, who, as usual, partook of his favorite dessert, Brown Betty.

Ralph Schwartz is cheer leader at Barnyard. Still the big noise.

Flash! Miss Roberta Joseph entered her portrait of Kathleen Bullock, the beauty with the burnished braids who is a famous advertising model, in the art exhibit sponsored by the eminent banker, Russell Doeringer. Miss Joseph's painting was awarded first prize, although by mistake it was hung upside down and catalogued as "Sunset."

The Wee Wheaties program is being taken over next week by Stan Leadbitter and all the lads.

Flash! The musical world is mourning the death of Miss Priscilla Stearns, the Chopin-ess of our age. Miss Stearns' eighty pounds of musical genius was playing at a concert and was seated near an open window, when a sudden gust of wind blew her into eternity.

Philomena Montague has just become the first woman president of the Spudville String Bean Cannery.

Flash! The distinguished scientist and explorer, Professor William Dixon, has returned from a trip of discovery after navigating his tiny canoe through the treacherous rapids of Green Brook. He has brought to the world the discovery of a colony of mermaids whose sole occupation is combing their beautiful hair. Professor Dixon has brought back six samples: the Misses Barrett, Bavier, Beebe, Cowan, Fox, and Scott.

Thanais Econom is now behind bars—and under a sign "Change and Exchange."

Flash! A message from Virginia Dinwiddie, noted aviatrix, has just arrived saying that her plane crashed on a peak of the Swiss Alps, and she was rescued by a yodeling mountain climber. The hero proved to be, on closer inspection, Clifford Greene, popular song writer. It was in mountain climbing that Mr. Greene found inspiration for his latest hit, "The Mountains Go Up and Down, ooo-ooo-ooo-ooo, and So Do You."

Bob Thorne has just returned from Reno after divorcing his fifth wife. He is now in search of a sixth.

Jimmy Perkins, popular athletic star, while running away from a horde of admiring females, fell in Cedar Brook and was just about to drown, a horrible death, when he swallowed the line Marjorie Hunter threw him, and choked.

Upton Deurell, business magnate, rises early every morning to set his permanent before going to work.

"Le Mistral," gigantic new French liner, sailed into port yesterday into such festivities as have never been seen since the arrival of the "Normandie." The keys of the city were received by Admiral Raymond Greene. "From his youth," said a friend, "he had the makings of a sailor. He always had a girl in every port."

William Amo, Wall Street broker, has moved into his new office, furnished with a comfortable couch.

Flash! Miss Janet Amundsen, Senator from New Jersey, is in the Fifth Avenue Hospital under the care of Dr. Jean Melick, brain specialist. While in New York, Senator Amundsen strayed too close to the Empire State building, and by mistake Gino De Matteo, contractor, began construction of the new Empire Penthouse on Miss Amundsen's head.

Air Waves:

Phyllis Durrah is still burning up the keyboards with hot melodies in behalf of the Palace Ice Cream Co.

Miss Marion Okell is now appearing on the A.B.C. Network in that old southern romance, "The Little Cuhn'l," advertising Battleaxe Chewing Tobacco.

Esther Sweazey, harmonica marvel from Plainfield, received 9,999,999,999 votes on Captain Arrows Amateur Program and is now playing with Unit No. 13 in Podunk, N. J.

Flash! Mr. Theodore Anklowitz, missionary to the savage tribes of Scotch Plains, is reported dead. A hostile tribe attacked the colony of converts, and Mr. Anklowitz was served as plump stewed missionary, garnished with parsley.

Miss Aubigne Butler, budding architect, has announced the opening of her model Home, complete with Piquette fences and neatly manicured Hedges. So public spirited is Miss Butler that she has sold the plans to the Federal Housing Administration for the small sum of three bob (English money).

The "Little Sunbeam Poetry Corner" of the "Daily Looking-glass" has been taken over by Miss Helen High, of "Entree" fame.

Flash! Jack Arnold, captain of the S. S. "Hot Dog," is the only survivor of the wreck of his ship on the shores of a South Sea Island. Captain Arnold was entertained in the royal palace and was held high in royal favor. He is now on his way home accompanied by his seventeen new wives.

Richard Lichtermann, learned epicure, has invented alphabet soup with Greek letters.

Flash! Miss Kay Taynor, millionairess and socialite, is said to have refused a proposal from James Floyd, Postmaster-General, on the grounds that he is only a mail man. What are you waiting for, Kay, a female man?

Harriet Kunzman, in collaboration with Shirley Schwartz, has placed on the market the painless eyebrow tweezer—the Boon to Beautiful Maidens.

Frances Schneider, master of the palette and brush, completed her latest masterpiece. She has just finished painting, in an alluring shade of pea green, the chicken coop of Ezra Groszmann, gentleman farmer, of Bull Frog City.

The Misses Doris Allen, Josephine Masuy, and Dorothy Mount have just received their Master of the Art of Nosewiping degrees, and are now fully qualified to be kindergarten teachers.

Flash! At a recent performance of "Jumbo" two casualties occurred. A vindictive elephant tried to twirl Rodney White, drum major, through the big top, but so heavily laden with medals was Mr. White that the elephant is now suffering from a broken trunk. Another pachyderm mistook for a peanut the president of Mount Holyhalter, Miss Isabella Enfer, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, and tried to eat her. Mount Holyhalter's president was rescued but is now in a state of collapse.

Alden Jacobs is now a famous advertising manager. He was recently seen distributing handbills for the Smith and Jones Colossal Circus.

Flash! After her performance of Rigoletto last night, Miss Virginia Kilburn, Metropolitan star, took the first plane to Paris. She says she will sing no more opera this season. Reason? She hit a high note and stayed there. But it wasn't quite high enough.

The Misses Ruth Gray and Eleanor Brown are doing splendid work at the Henry Street Settlement House, moulding little Isadores and Ikeys for the president's chair.

Flash! Ruth Parry, daring woman explorer, has renounced civilization and left the ways of vice and iniquity of this world for the sanctuary of the jungle. She has at last found her beloved monkey in a Brazilian jungle, and the air agrees with it so well that Miss Parry, clad in a banana skin, has taken up a permanent abode in the top of a rubber tree.

Marie Pepper is still a spinster because she has never found a last name that suited her personality as well as her own. Wanted: a Mr. Ginger.

Flash! Miss Evelyn Morris, reporter for the "Gazette and Chronicle," was interviewing Mr. Seymour Kurtzman at the factory, where he manufactures genuine mink, when a terrific explosion took place. Funeral at 3:30 Monday.

The prominent inventor, David Rowland, has finished experiments on slamless, squeakless doors. He attributes his inspiration and success to Miss Lovell.

Aurelio Mangione, court interpreter for the famous criminal lawyer, John Hagemann, is still waiting for an opportunity to translate his favorite quotation, "Multos Danaum demittimus Orco."

Miss Loraine Wahl, who has trod the thorny path of the poor working girl to success, will address the Stenographers' Union Thursday. The Misses Kreidler and McLean will pour. The Misses Cusumano, Good, and Kalish are to be hostesses.

At the premier of Frank Harty's new picture, "The Duke of Graystone," were seen several P.H.S. graduates. Mrs. Percy Attlebury Millions, nee Joan Kelly, was sheathed in a silver frock, and an Ibis feather crowned her brown waves. Miss Barbara Huff, in filmy rose draperies and haloed with a diamond tiara, was accompanied by Lucille Stites, whose smart blue gown came straight from Paris. Mr. Howard Boise and Joseph Stites, lone eagles of New York society, were conspicuous by their absence.

Jane Dunham, whom P.H.S. alumni remember from "I'll Leave It to You," the senior play in 1936, is earning a fabulous salary on the silver screen, doubling for Minnie Mouse.

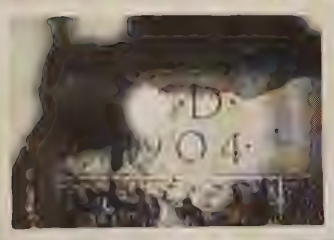

The husband of a former Plainfield basketball star, Frances Tozzi, is suing for divorce. Her practice on the P.H.S. courts gave her unerring aim with the rolling pin.

Roland Van Zandt, Secretary of the Treasury, has found the solution of the nation's economic problem. He darned the hole in the toe of the federal sock.

We hear that Herbert Stine, deceased, was refused admission at the Golden Gate. Said Saint Peter, "A basketball pass won't admit here; the floor below, please." Too bad, Hub, the golden wings would have contrasted so beautifully with your raven locks. It is rumored among the best circles that little Herbert is shoveling coal and sharpening pitchforks for pocket money. Let it be a warning to you.

Ladies and gentlemen, Elastex Baby Garments, free from buttons, snaps, pins, and ties, will be on the air one week from tonight in a program featuring Waltheresa Winchell.

Signing off for 1936.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The Cards, coached by the renowned H. A. Stine, ran a good season in the fall of '35. With such veterans as "Stiff" Furino and "Clem" De Rose, Ray Tice, Stan Gabruk, Ed Johnson, "Porky" Nagel, and many others, we were positive for one of the best runs ever made by a P.H.S. team. They lived up to their expectations. But in mentioning names we mustn't forget the two fast men named Caulfield and Morrison who put on some of the flashiest ball ever seen on the P.H.S. gridiron. If any one ever asks you how the football team was in the year '35, just say, "There are no better 'pigskinners' in the state," and you'll have it just right. The following is the squad:

Philip Matthews	Olvester Taylor
Robert Kremer	Raymond Tice
William Alston	Upton Deurell
Wayne Carter	John Tombro
Arthur Swenson	Steven Furino
William Henry	Frank Harty
Clement De Rose	Stanley Gabruk
Ellis Moke	Bernard Perlmutter
Louis Mandell	James Caulfield
Charles Nagel	Leonard Strom
Oscar Smith	Lester Evans
George Casey	David Morrison
Edward Kyle	Edward Johnson
John Hagemann	Gerson Gordon
Irving DeMilt	Donald Simmons, Captain
Leslie Eddy	John Toolan, Manager
Donald Dickson	Philip Cascavilla, Manager

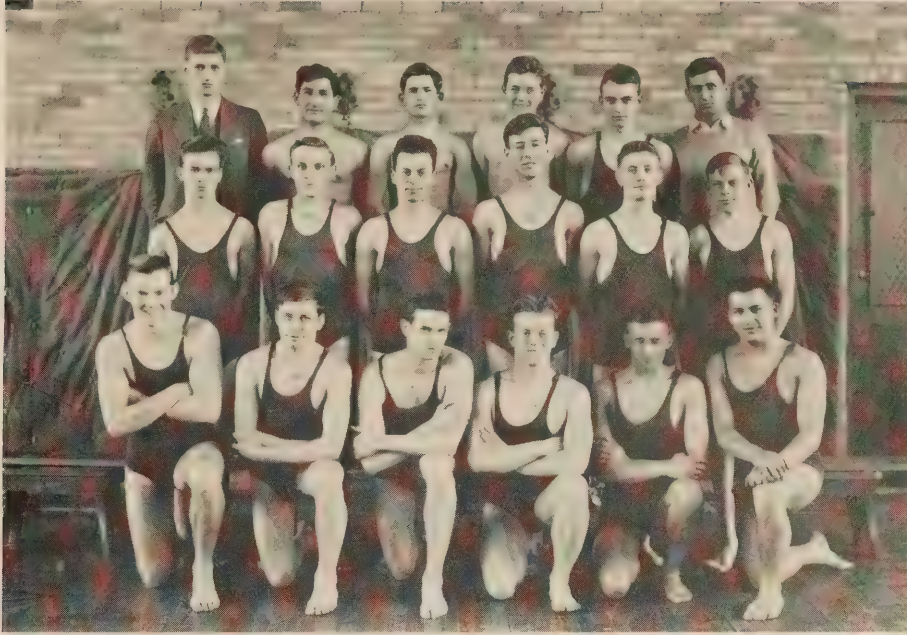

BASKETBALL

When one thinks of the basketball team, one thinks of the great Cardinal Combine which made such a successful run this year captained by Stan Dusza and coached by Mr. Wilbur Brann. We of P.H.S. are greatly indebted to the members of the team and the coach for such a wonderful basketball exhibition and that great upset of the year, the defeat of Passaic on their own court. Men like Len Strom, Ray Tice, Fus Taylor, Brooks, and Dusza are a real credit to the school, and we certainly are grateful to them.

Squad

Stanley Dusza	Alexander Brooks	Clement De Rose
Raymond Tice	Olvester Taylor	John Pawlick
Leonard Strom	David Morrison	Bert Bicknell, Manager

SWIMMING

Our team, headed by Captain Harold ("Red") Van Arsdale, had a very successful season this year. They had more meets than usual and won a good majority of the ones in which they competed. One of the outstanding events was the relay team's performance, the team being composed of Captain Van Arsdale, Dick Loizeaux, Johnny Ware, and Olaf Berentsen.

The fellow to whom we owe a good deal is coach "Pop" Liske, who in his second year of coaching has turned out a fine team of which P.H.S. is proud.

Harold Van Arsdale	Edward Yaros
Richard Loizeaux	Louis Mandell
James Walsh	Charles Harns
Robert Utzinger	John Runyon
William Shumsky	Robert Rock
John Ware	Olaf Berentsen
Benjamin Merrill	Harold Stryker
Daniel Hogan	Lawrence Angleman
George Van Mater	Richard Rugen
Howard Gibbons

BASEBALL

The prospects of a successful season are fairly good this year, with the veterans Perkins and Stine returning to the mound. As yet we can't tell just what to expect, but we're going to sit tight, cross our fingers, and hope for the best. Good luck, fellows.

At the beginning of printing, the track team, under the supervision of Coaches Charles Wadas and George Young, had made a good start by setting a new Union County record in the indoor 880 relay. All we can do is hope for the best and wish the team lots of luck.

TENNIS

When this is written, it is purely prophecy, because the yearbook has to go to press before the team is chosen; so please forgive any errors. The team will probably be composed of Captain Willis, Everett Bishop, Melvin Bogas, and Bob Peterson. They are certainly sure of a successful season, and we all heartily wish them good luck.

Victorious! For four years almost this same team has struggled for a victory. It was only after a thrilling game played with the juniors that the seniors emerged victorious. As a result of this, they received their numerals.

Tennis was a weak spot for the seniors this year. Although all the matches haven't been played, the seniors are on the tail end. Remember though, seniors, "Where there's life, there's hope."

THE ENTREE

The Entree, Plainfield High School's bi-weekly newspaper, made two radical changes this year. Instead of being printed once a week, it now appears once every two weeks; also instead of coming out on Mondays at lunch period, it is distributed after school on Fridays. Whether the news has been as good as it might have been, is a question to be debated, but the longer time between the issues has given the staff more time to improve on their work. Consequently, the caliber of their work has risen considerably.

This year's board was under the leadership of Evelyn Morris, who deserves a lot of credit for the many hard efforts she has put forth in behalf of the publication.

Thanks must be extended to the advisers, for we do not know what the staff would have done without their untiring efforts for the good of the paper.

On the whole, this year's paper has been fairly successful in upholding the ideals established by the originators.

SENIOR PLAY

This year the Senior Play Committee showed good judgment in selecting Noel Coward's scintillating comedy, "I'll Leave It to You." It was particularly adaptable to High School production because seven of the ten roles were of the juvenile type. The story was of a lazy, irritable English family who were spurred on by fake promises of a supposedly wealthy uncle. The show was a success both dramatically and financially, showing before one of the largest houses for a school play.

CLUBS

This year, under the excellent supervision of Mr. Dunavan, many extra-curricular clubs were formed. These clubs meet on Tuesday mornings during assembly period, and are primarily to stimulate group interest at school, which, in turn, will create a much-needed school spirit. Because of the number of clubs, it would be impossible to list them all with their respective members on these pages, but a list of the various clubs is given here:

Biology	Library Council
Boxing	Lost and Found
Boys' Cooking	News
Camera	Poster
Chemistry	Science
Chess	Sketching

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Hear Ye! And Call for Philip Morris. We, the most distinguished, renowned, and illustrious class of 1936 (those who are left after exam week), being of sound mind and body, having used Lifebuoy, Pepsodent, Listerine, et al, do hereby state our last will and testament. If there are any who may have reason to object, kindly elucidate forthwith or forever hold your peace. Shut up! You're too late. All in favor signify by the regular sign, the reponents no, the I's got 'em. Passed. So be it.

To the faculty:

1. Hopes for more students like Gavett and Enfer.
2. The joy of getting rid of the rest of us.
3. To Mr. Banta—A bigger, better Yearbook Staff.
4. To Miss Bonney (A. W.)—An automatic whistle that says sh-sh-sh-sh-sh- sh.
5. To Miss Lovell—1,800 rubber heels.

To the seniors to be:

1. The senior rights that we couldn't find.
2. Caps and gowns—if you can get them.
3. The privilege of seeing Mr. Boyer or Mrs. Buckelew about college entrance requirements.
4. Front seats in assembly.
5. The right to rule the school.
6. And as usual, the privilege of roasting the class of '38.

To the juniors to be:

1. Miss Bond and Miss Lovell.
2. The satisfaction of giving away your class ring the day you get it.
3. Our sympathy at the roast—you'll need it.

To the sophomores to be:

1. The time honored tradition of looking down on the freshmen.
2. The right to have dates.

To the freshmen to be:

1. Cushioned helmets to protect the seniors' shins when they bump into you.
2. The right to hear Mr. Patch tell you to keep quiet during chapel.

To Mr. Broadbent:

1. Some strong armed seniors to help set up the senior play props.

To the 1937 Milestone Board:

1. All our gray hairs and hopes that you will get your copy in on time.

To the school in general:

1. Soft, cushioned seats in front of Miss Moore's office.
2. An attempt to get rid of those little red tickets.
3. Another courtesy and anti-noise campaign.

In witness whereof, we, the class of 1936, do hereby set our great seal and big toe print on this 18th day of June, 1936, in the year of our schooling 12 (15 for Harty).

The Class of '36.
